On July 20, 1969, when Apollo 11 astronaut Neil Armstrong became the first human to walk on the moon, an estimated 650 million people watched his televised image as he took “one giant leap for mankind.” The fulfillment of a pledge made by the late President John F. Kennedy, it was a century-defining moment.

WLIW21 celebrates the 50th anniversary of this remarkable milestone with Summer of Space specials airing all month long. The line-up blasts off with Antiques Roadshow: Out of This World (Wednesday, July 10 at 8pm) spotlighting NASA memorabilia, space travel treasures, science fiction finds, and other treasures.

In Secrets of the Dead: Galileo’s Moon (Wednesday, July 10 at 9pm), experts uncover the truth behind the astronomical find of the century. Published in 1610, Sidereus Nuncius (Starry Messenger) sparked a scientific revolution by proving that Earth is not the center of the universe. When an original copy with Galileo’s signature and seemingly original watercolor paintings came on the market in 2005, Sidereus Nuncius caused a worldwide sensation 400 years after its creation — and again in 2012 when it was proved a fake.

Ever wonder how Cocoa Beach, Florida became the bustling center of the American space program? Space Chase USA (Wednesday, July 17 at 10pm) charts this history, featuring former Apollo astronauts, Cape Canaveral-based engineers, long-time residents and more. Then, go inside Apollo 11’s historic journey with 8 Days: To the Moon and Back (Wednesday, July 24 at 9pm).

Ancient Skies (Thursdays at 8pm, beginning July 25) reveals how centuries of knowledge, experimentation and engineering helped our ancestors explore outer space. The Planets (Thursday, July 25 at 9pm and 10pm; 8/1-8/15 at 9pm), a five-part NOVA miniseries, tells the story of our solar system through the discoveries of groundbreaking space missions.

Visit thirteen.org/summer69 for more on the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 moon landing and other historic events that took place in the Summer of 1969.

OVER-THE-AIR VIEWERS: RESCAN TVs AUGUST 1

Following the broadcast spectrum auction, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) authorized a repack of television band by assigning television stations to new broadcast frequencies. Viewers that watch WLIW (and other local stations) with free, over-the-air television using an antenna will be affected by this repack.

To continue watching WLIW21, Create, World and ALL ARTS over-the-air, you must rescan your tuner or television after 1pm on August 1. If needed, contact the manufacturer for help. Cable and satellite viewers are not affected.
